Why is the soda cracker to-day such a universal food?

People ate soda crackers in the old days, it is true—but they bought them from a barrel or box and took them home in a paper bag, their crispness and flavor all gone.

To-day there is a soda cracker which is the recognized staple - Uneeda Biscuit.

Uneeda Biscuit are the most nutritious food made from flour and should be eaten every day by every member of the family from the youngest to the oldest.

Uneeda Biscuit soda crackers better than any ever made before—made in the greatest bakeries in the world—baked to perfection—packed to perfection kept to perfection until you take them, oven-fresh and crisp, from their protecting package.

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

can, perhaps, send some men to the penitentiary for creating these combinations which have cheapened the cost of production and given you most of your foreign trade and much of your prosperity, but what are you going to do with the capital invested, the plant, and the organization? You can confiscate it and ruin your country by a panie, but you can't divide such combinations into their component parts again, for the lines of division have disappeared into a common ownership."

The court has met the issue and the queries presented by the doubters and the scoffers. It has vindicated the majesty of the law has illustrated the wonderful clasticity and adaptability of remedy by injunction in quity, and has at the same time manifested a duregard for the welfare of the innocent business men and the community at large, who, in a cataclysm caused by the confiscation of such enormous capital as are involved in these combinations and a suspension of the legitumate part of their business would no buried with them is a common ruin. The court has exhibited a couragin facing the necessary results in enforcing the statute that, instead of prompting an attack on it, ought to nake every American proud that we have such a tribunal. It is now enforcing its decree against the Standard Oll Company and against the Tobacco Company, and it is making those great combinations divide themselves into actually competing parts that an injunction shall be constantly operative to prevent by contempt proceedings any assumption of the did relations of a monopoly. This was an earler matter in reference to the Standard Oll Company, because it was easy to divide up the various companies that were united by the ownership of stock of the companies in a single holding company.

Tobacco Company the decree could not be worked out so easily.

and it will be necessary to separation the properties owned by single companies and to distribute these plants into different and differing ownerships in order to create competition between them and maintain that competition by the power of a continuing injunction against any future union, or any agreement to avoid future competition. It needed these two great decisions to teach the business public that at least not in the supreme tribunal of this country would the claim te listened to that in this day and sceneration we have passed beyond the possibility of fret competition as consistent with proper business growth, or that we have reached a time when only regulated monopoly and the fixing of prices by governmental authority are consistent with future progress. We did get along with competition; we can get along with twith did get along without monopoly; we can get along without it; and the business men of this country must square themselves to that necessity. Either that, or we must proceed to State socialism and vest the government with power to run every business. The decision of the Supreme Court is in the highest interest of the public, and I am glad to think that business men who have been violating the trust law are now being made to see the necessity for putting their houses in order, changing their roriginal organizations, giving up the did and the properties of the supreme competition. In which all limit upon it to prevent its being excessive must be self-imposed by the good sense of each competitor and not by any arrangement or contract between competitors or secret stipulation or wink or nod.

on the investigations and to pay the counsel engaged in the work.

I wish to repeat this now, and to say further that the Attorney-General has instituted investigations into all the industrial companies above described, and that these are in various stages of completion. I am glad to be able to add that if Congress shall continue needed appropriations, every trust of any size that violates the sintute will, before the end of this administration in 1912, be brought into court to meet and acquiesce in a degree of disintegration by which competition between its parts shall be restored and preserved under the persuasive and restrictive influence of a permanent and continuing lajunction.

Big Project on Virginia Avenue Is Nearing Completion.

Assistant City Engineer Keegan, in charge of the Virginia Avenue sewer, the great drain which will serve the larger part of Clay Ward, reported yesterday that the tunnel through solid granite had now run 1,500 of the total of 1,820 feet. Two of the shaftis have been connected the calculations having been so perfect that working from one shaft to the other, the tunnels met less than a half-inch out.

Only the section leading out to the canal at Haxall Station remains to be completed, and Mr. Keegan thinks the entire granite hill will have been pierced in forty-five working days. The whole is then to be lined with concrete and connections made to the stream of the stre tion and was readily recognized at a listance the present color would be etained.

New Novel The IRON WOMAN

ANY book by Mrs.
Deland would be notable. But "The Iron Woman" marks an event in A merican publishing. It is more than a novel, as we have come to know the word. Mrs. Deland pleures your bear. to know the word. Mrs. De-land pictures youth—dewy, virginal youth—in all its tenderuess and passion, its foolish obstinacy, and gen-erous impulsiveness, with truthful idealism. Her young people are wonder-fully attractive in their per-fect naturalness. She por-trays the elders—people trays the elders—people whom life has hardened—with just as deep understanding and sympathy. She has have of penetrating the outward husk of habit and finding the living heart underneath. As for the story itself—it is difficult to speak of its beauty in terms of self-restraint.
